Third, we will establish your first set of Rocks for the organization and each person on your Leadership Team. Fifth, we will create the first draft of your Scorecard and teach you how to use it in your weekly meetings.

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

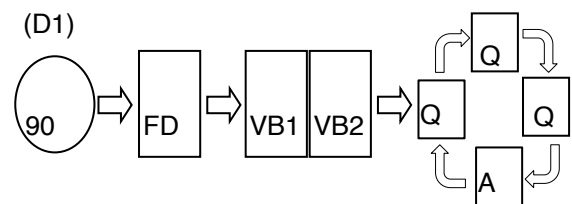

Are we all ready to begin? In case you are wondering where you are, you are here. (D1)

Manuals, Objectives, Agenda and Goals

- Overview of the Leadership Team Manuals
- EOS Worldwide App
- Acknowledgements (LTM)
- Review Objectives, Agenda and Goals (LTM) (Read the words directly from the manual)
 - More objective driven than agenda driven: more about quality than quantity of the work done today.
 - Notice there are no breaks or lunch listed, we take them when we need them.
 - We'll have a working lunch; Let's please always break together.
 - Please turn off all electronic devices. You'll have plenty of time to check voicemails and emails at breaks.
- Questions, comments or concerns?

NOTE: The Organizational Checkup was emailed prior to the session for each leader to complete on their own. The purpose is ONLY to create awareness and to mentally prepare for the work to be done in the sessions ahead. If they come into the Focus Day with it, ask them to hold onto it. As tempting as it may be to do so, do not review their responses. There's nothing positive to be gained by doing a review at this point. You will do a thorough review in their annual session.

Check-In 30 MIN (LTM 1)

Give everyone 2 quiet minutes; start with the brave one and proceed to the left – you go last:

1. Name and Role (not title) – what you do
2. Good News: Personal and Professional
3. Expectations for this Session

Listen carefully to their expectations to ensure they are in line with what is going to be done that day. If they aren't in line you have to call that out.

- My Role – that of teacher, facilitator & coach
 - Teacher: in that I am going to teach you a set of simple practical tools that help create a context for you and help you get more of the right stuff done every week.
 - Facilitator: in that I am not an answer man. My job is to facilitate your answers into a common answer that you can go execute on. Not a guru or futurist. Not somebody who's going to tell you what strategy to pursue. Looking to me to do that, you've got the wrong guy. Here to facilitate wisdom in the room. 90% of the time, all the answers are here in the room.
 - Coach: I'm going to help coach you. I'm lucky - I get to see the people who play the game of running an entrepreneurial company every day. I'm going to see some stuff. Like a great sports team or athlete, sometimes you can't see yourself playing the game. Going to coach you, help you be accountable, make you get more out of yourself than you maybe thought possible.
- My Good News: Personal and Business
 - Business: My business good news is today. Beginning the journey with a new client is my favorite part of the process because I already know what's ahead for you.
- My Expectations for this Session
 - Open: open-minded and open to one another's perspectives.
 - Honest: "just say it"; get it on the table; no holding back. To the degree we can be open and honest with each other we will get there faster. So far no one has gotten fired or killed as a result of being open and honest in these sessions.
 - Please be open and honest, I promise you will get that from me.

That's our Check-In, any other comments about anything?

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

Out of the Box

- Think of this box as your business (D2)
- If you are normal, when you think about your business this is what you see, this is all the stuff going on in your business (D3)
- Kurt Gödel quote
- For today to be productive, I need you to step out, elevate above all that stuff and work on the business as if you are a “Board of Directors” (D4)
- You need to disconnect yourself from your ego, your role and past beliefs and do what’s best for the greater good of the organization going forward

The Journey – Setting the context by asking a question: (LTM 2)

I’ve told you numerous times that we are embarking on a journey together. I need to start that journey with a question –

Are you ready and willing to become your best as a Leadership Team?

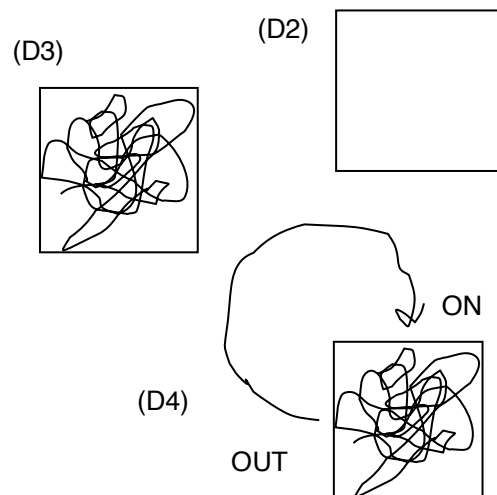

You don’t need to answer now. I’m going to describe exactly what that means. I want you to write down these four things on the lines provided for you on page 2.

1. Becoming Both Healthy and Smart

Share Patrick Lencioni quote, 1st par, pg. xiv, The Four Obsessions of an Extraordinary Executive.

- Smart
 - How you do what you do
 - Your strategies and plans
 - How you deliver your product or service
- Healthy
 - Open and honest
 - Organizational clarity
 - No politics
 - United front

2. Become a Leadership Team

- Become good parents – (P.E.T. by Dr Thomas Gordon)
 - A handful of rules
 - Repeat yourself often (7 times to hear it for the first time)
 - Be consistent (walk the talk) / As go you, so go they

POINT: Take Responsibility

- The good news: you created all the great stuff you see when you look around your business
- You also created all the issues. We are not going to spend time focusing on blame, we are going to work together to solve all those issues

3. Run on one operating system

- The EOS Creed – “You cannot build a great business on multiple operating systems – you must choose one.”
- Same Language – people are confused when you use different terms
- One vision, one voice, one team – we are going to disagree in this session room, but when you leave this room you have to present a united front to your organization

4. Strengthen the Six Key Components™ of your business (use a visual of the EOS Model™)

- Quick review of the Six Key Components
- The root cause of all your issues are weaknesses in those Six Key Components
- You cannot become your best as a Leadership Team without strengthening all Six Key Components

LTM PAGES AND DIAGRAMS

CONCLUDE

Again: Are you willing to become your best?

- Don't answer yet; in time, you'll decide for yourselves
- That's what this journey and this process is all about
- Be careful what you wish for; with this process, you'll get it
- Questions, comments or concerns?

HITTING THE CEILING

OBJECTIVES

1. Create a context and a common language.
2. Get them to understand that hitting the ceiling is inevitable.
3. Show them how the EOS Process® will teach them all Five Leadership Abilities.

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

Hitting the Ceiling 30 MIN (LTM 3)

If you'll turn to page 3, I want to introduce you to this concept.

- The feeling of being stuck, frustrated / things are complex and chaotic / scratching your head / can't get unstuck (D5)
- There is good news and hope / "hitting the ceiling" is a natural part of growth / it's normal
- Study in the 60's / "How Organizations Really Grow" / Evolution and Revolution most don't break through (D6)
One of three things happen:
 - Break through - hit another ceiling later
 - Flat line
 - Fail - vast majority; 50% failed within 5 years
- This is the way children grow.
 - Children naturally advance through the revolutionary periods, not in a straight line. There's some pain associated with growth spurts.
 - In an Entrepreneurial company, it will take effort and skill and ability.
- Companies hit the ceiling in 3 different ways:
 - Organizational level
 - Department level
 - Individual level
- HITTING THE CEILING IS INEVITABLE, but there is hope!
- To the degree the Leadership Team can develop Five Leadership Abilities, the company will break through the ceiling and grow.
- I want to share those with you one at a time and assure you that I'm here on this journey with you. Following the process and implementing EOS is going to help you master these Five Leadership Abilities.

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

1. SIMPLIFY

- Simplify is rooting out complexity as it grows in your organization.
Illustrate that concept with "Complexity Model." (D7)
- Complexity throughout (communication, cultural, facilities and procedures)
- EOS is designed to help you simplify everything; I'm taking part of the responsibility to help you with simplification
- If you intend to grow, the leaders must master the skill of reducing complexity, reducing everything to its simplest form - dumb it down – KISS
The whole thing can be summarized in "less is more!"

2. Delegate and Elevate™ to your Unique Ability®

- Unique Ability® is a Dan Sullivan term - what you love to do and are best at.
- The only way for an organization to grow is for the leaders to build extensions of themselves and let go of responsibilities
So organizational growth should look like this (D8)
- Let go of the vine story
 - A guy falls off a cliff; manages to catch a vine on the way down
 - 1000' up; 1000' down; no way to get out
 - So, his last hope is to look up into the heavens and ask for help, "Is anybody up there?" A voice billows down from the clouds, "Do you believe?" What's he going to say? He says, "Yes, I believe." The voice billows back, "Then let go of the vine."
 - The guy thinks for a moment, looks up and says, "Is anybody else up there?"
 - It's scary, that just makes us normal. I am going to give you all the tools so when you let go you know some is there to catch you.

You can't be the chief cook and bottle washer; you can't grow if you're holding on to everything; you are holding the company back.

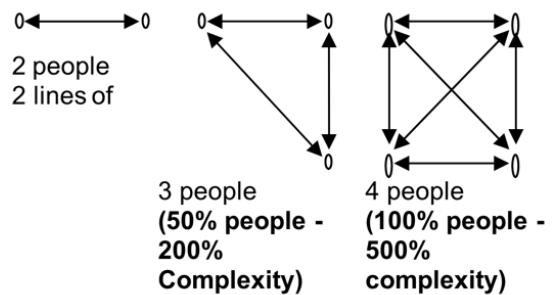

This is true for everyone on the Leadership Team.

The Accountability Chart will be the ultimate tool for knowing when it's time to Delegate and Elevate.

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

3. PREDICT

- A Leadership Team predicts on two levels.
- The first level is Long-Term Predicting.
 - Everything 90 days and out (your vision, plan, and execution on plan)
 - Tool = Rocks – they help you clarify your priorities for the next 90 days and execute on them
 - Picture a very productive team cutting a road thru a jungle
 - If no one climbs a tree to point where the road must go
 - Result = zigzag; takes longer even with the fastest team
- Short-Term Predicting
 - What happens on a daily and weekly basis?
 - Leaders who are entangled in the day to day stuff typically just push the issues out of their way trying to make it to next week by wrapping some duct tape or twine around them. As a result, the company is held together by duct tape and twine and will eventually implode.
 - We're going to teach you the Issues Solving Track™ to make you better short-term predictors (IDS™)
 - Identify the issue
 - Discuss what it really is
 - Solve
 - Must master the ability to resolve issues for the long-term greater good making them go away forever

4. SYSTEMIZE

- Every company has a handful of Core Processes that make up its way of operating (D9)
- Document at a high level. We recommend the 20/80 approach, documenting 20% to yield 80% compliance
- Followed by All. Get all your employees following the same process.

It's going to create consistency, scalability, more profit and more fun in your organization.

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

The Accountability Chart: 3 Hours (LTM 4)

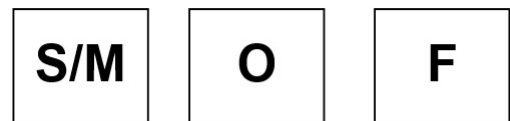

I told you before the break that we are going to have a shift in the room from me doing all the talking to you doing all the talking. That's coming in about 7 minutes.

I need your blind faith for the next 7 minutes and then we are going to make that shift.

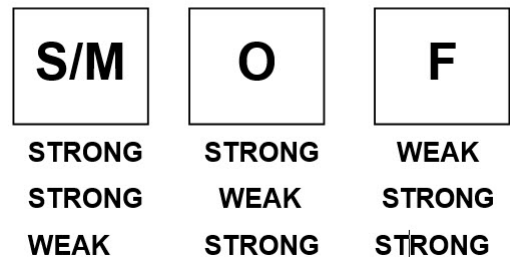

- The Accountability Chart is based on fundamental belief that every organization has 3 major functions. (D10)
 - Going to customize this for your unique organization in just a moment.
 - All 3 functions must be strong.
 - (quick pop quiz to prove the point) (D11)
 - What happens in each case? – they should answer
- In addition to 3 major functions in any great organization there is this additional major function that of The Integrator™ (D12)
 - The Integrator harmoniously integrates the major functions of the organization
 - They run the business / the glue
 - Drives accountability in the organization
- The thing that makes this basic Accountability Chart an Accountability Chart is that only one person can be accountable for each major function. In the world of accountability, when two people are accountable – nobody is accountable.
- That's the basic Accountability Chart.
- In a few minutes, we are going to customize your Accountability Chart - create the right structure, identify the five major roles the right way to help you take your company to the next level.

LTM PAGES AND DIAGRAMS

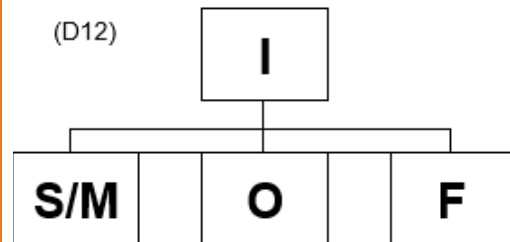

(D10)

(D11)

(D12)

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

- There is no prescription for the right structure here. We have to discover that together.
- We're going to customize your Accountability Chart in 2 ways.
 - We must decide how many and what major functions you have in your unique business.
 - We need to decide if you're one of the organizations where 50% of the time there is 1 additional function – The Visionary (D13)
 - When there is a Visionary in your business, we must call it out.
 - Visionaries and Integrators couldn't be more different!
 - Integrators
 - They're in the trenches running the day to day business
 - Having tough conversations
 - Visionaries do not enjoy that kind of work
 - Visionaries
 - Great idea people – stay at 30,000 feet
 - Finger on the pulse of the culture
 - Good with big relationships and culture
 - Detail oriented nitty-gritty kills them
 - If there is a Visionary in the organization, we must work that out, clarify their five major roles and we'll take it from there.
- Once we agree on the right structure for your organization, we then set about defining the five major roles for everybody on the Leadership Team – crystallizing what you are accountable for.
- From there, we take a structure first, people second approach to creating your Accountability Chart at the Leadership Team level of your organization.

EXERCISE – The Accountability Chart

2 Ground rules

- Look forward (6-12 months) not back; forget the past and/or how it was done.
- No people; detach from your role; let go of your ego.
Somebody at the end of this exercise could be out of a job

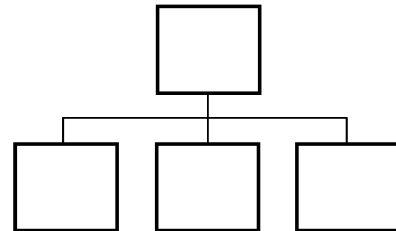

If you're ready, the 7 minutes of blind faith is up. It's time to erase this Accountability Chart, start from scratch and create your Accountability Chart.

THE ACCOUNTABILITY CHART

Roles and Responsibilities:

- Structure first, people second
- The right structure that reduces complexity and creates clarity
- 3 major functions
- The Integrator function harmoniously integrates
- Only 1 person can be accountable
- Two ways to customize
 - The three major functions may split
 - Visionary and Integrator or just Integrator
- What are the 5 roles in each seat
- Delegate and Elevate™ to your genetic encoding
- Ground rules

(D13)

Draw five bullets to the right of each box/seat

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

What is the right and best structure to get us to the next level?

4 phases – ALWAYS get them to agree (around the table) at the end of each phase.

- What are the major functions (not titles) of your business?
 - Add the Integrator
 - Is there a Visionary?
- Add the five major roles (LTM 5)
 - Start with main level and move up to I/V
 - 80% of the way there today; doesn't have to be exactly right. (3-5 minutes per major function/seat)
 - Any Leadership Seat that has direct reports always has LMA™ as first role/responsibility
- Fill the seats
 - Teach GWC™ (get it; want it; capacity to do it) to create context
 - Describe Get It using this quote from Dr. Ken Robinson, in his book The Element. The quote is this. "Get it is aptitude; or the natural ability for something. An intuitive feel or grasps of what the job is, how it works and how to do it. Natural feel; biochemistry"
- Re-enforce structure first, people second philosophy
- Start with main level and move up to I/V
- Real time performance review
- Potential people issues
 - Two people currently in or want seat
 - No one wants seat
 - Someone doesn't own any seat – enter the danger
- Homework

HOMEWORK – The Accountability Chart

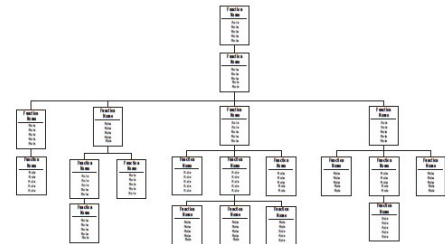

- Each person who is accountable for a major function must now build out the Accountability Chart for their team
- Need one person to compile the departments into one Accountability Chart

Copy to each team leader; store in Leadership Team Manual under the Accountability Chart tab

- “Focus” – Al Reis
 - The sun showers the earth with billions of kilowatts of energy every day; worst case you might get a sunburn
 - A laser beam uses just a few kilowatts of energy, focused in a direction and it can cut through steel, cut through diamonds
 - That is the power of focus
 - POINT: You don’t have billions of kilowatts; you only have a few and to the degree you can get everyone focused in one direction you will do amazing things
- Rocks, Pebbles, Sand and Water Illustration (used in many colleges)
 - "First Things First" by Dr. Stephen R. Covey
 - Rocks = the big priorities; things that must get done
 - Pebbles = all of the day-to-day tasks
 - Sand = the daily interruptions
 - Water = everything else
 - Put water, sand, pebbles and rocks into cylinder; rocks won't fit
 - POINT: Do the big stuff first; everything else will follow
- 3 – 7 Priorities
 - Most companies try and focus on too many objectives
 - Harris Poll – Thousands of employees
 - 1 out of 3 don't understand the priorities
 - 1 out of 5 don't care
 - Half don't know their role in helping
 - If everything is important, nothing is important
 - REMEMBER: LESS IS MORE – 3-7

EXERCISE - Establishing Our Rocks

Take 5 quiet minutes and list everything that must get done in the business in the next 90 days, big and small (see NOTES).

Starting with brave one; then to the left; list everything on the board

- NOTE: Use 3 different colors
 - Topics in blue
 - Keep/Kill/Combine in black
 - Red Star on third round
- Take a first cut at what on the list is a candidate and is not a candidate for company quarterly Rocks.
 - Keep it — circle it
 - Kill it — draw a thin line through it
 - Combine it — draw a line through with an arrow pointing to kept prospective Rock
- DO NOT ERASE ANYTHING (some may be individual rocks)
- With the remaining circled candidates, star most important until you get it down to 3 — 7 Rocks. Life-or-death priorities that must get done in the next 90 days (LTM 8)
- Future Date = date of VB2
 - Schedule VB1 and VB2 now; from then on, future date will be quarterly
 - There should be about 60 days between the Focus Day and the Vision Building Day 2 session, but we're teaching teams to predict 90 days out.
- No Revenue, Profit or Measurables yet
- Facilitate them writing SMART Rocks
Let them decide how & if they are SMART
- Write down and assign ownership of Company Rocks.
- Conclude — Read each company Rock aloud and ask, “On xyz date, when we (read each Rock and you say “Done” for each), will this have been a good 60 days for you?”
- Erase or blacken out the Company Rocks from the first list.
- Establish Individual Rocks (LTM 9).
 - Add Company Rocks into individual lists first.
 - Take 5 quiet minutes to establish Individual Rocks.
 - Look to the company list first, the ones that were killed may be Individual Rocks.
 - Have each person share their additional Rocks with the team.
 - Must have team support that these Rocks are the right Rocks for that individual and are SMART.
- Before moving on, clean up Laundry List and move remaining items to Issues List.

- The Procrastination Model (D14)
- Weekly meetings reduce the time to procrastinate

The EOS Meeting Pulse (D15)

- Develop a cadence, pulse, routine that sets you free, improves efficiency and gives you peace of mind
- Prevents bottlenecks and train wrecks where the left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing
- The five points of a solid Meeting Pulse
 - Same day
 - Same time

 - Starts on time
 - Ends on time
 - This is how we keep the circles connected. (Demonstrate this with hands).
- For as long as you retain me, I'll be responsible for helping you with your annual and quarterlies, so you don't need to think about those meetings yet.
Master the weeklies!
- Everyone aligns no less than weekly and information flows up and down the Accountability Chart freely

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

The Level 10 Weekly Meeting (LTM 12)

Write agenda on the board / pad (D16)

Now I want to go through the flow of the meeting:

POINT: Start on time!

- Segue (Good News) – personal and professional highlights
Transition from “being in” to “working on”

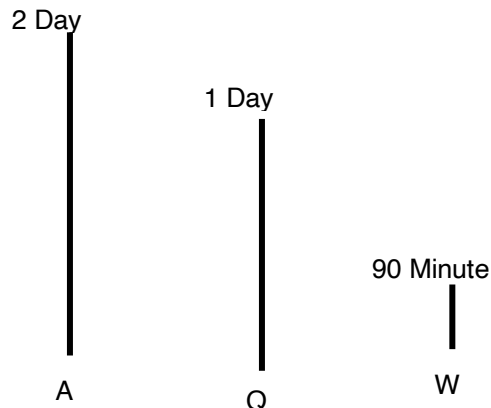

NOTE: The next 3 agenda items are all reporting, no discussion. Fight the urge. Anything that is off track gets dropped down to the Issues List. Speed in reporting allows more time for solving. Off tracks and bad reports drop to the Issues List under IDS.

- Scorecard numbers (On/Off Track)
- Rocks – Company and Individual (On/Off Track)
- Are our customers and employees happy? (brief good / bad reports – no dissertations)
- To-Do List – establishing weekly accountability (90% should be dropping off)
 - To-Do List review from last meeting (done/not done)
 - Incomplete tasks stay on the To-Do List for next week
- IDS (Issues List) — You are attacking issues, making them go away forever.
 - We start with all issues on the Issues List
 - Prioritize 1, 2 and 3 (this should take no more than 30 seconds)
 - When tackling issues, we follow our Issues Solving Track, IDS (D17)
 - When everyone is fighting for the greater good, solving is much easier
 - Solutions that require action go to the To-Do List
 - Unresolved issues carry over to next meeting
- Conclude — assures clarity and measures meeting improvement – always 8 or better
 - Recap To-Do List (say Got It)
 - Cascading Messages – Who needs to know, when & how
 - Rate the meeting (1 – 10)

POINT: End on time!

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

- Decide on the two roles:
 - Role 1: Who will run the meetings?
 - Role 2: Who will take care of the paperwork?
 - The Agenda (include To-Do and Issues Lists in agenda)
 - The Rock Sheet (already assigned above)
 - The Scorecard (will assign in Scorecard section)
- Decide what day and time for L10s
 - Put in calendar and hit repeat forever
 - Valid absence: vacation or death (your death)
- Need a little blind faith:
 - All our clients use this Meeting Pulse
 - It will vastly improve the quality of your meetings.
 - Commit to getting in the room next week – work through agenda the best you can.
 - It's normal for the first several to be bumpy, just try it!

CONCLUDE

- Questions, comments or concerns?
- NOTE: Review agenda to see if time permits & the team wants to complete Scorecard

TEACHING AND FACILITATION

Have the team review examples of measurables to help their thought process. (LTM 15)

- Create the Scorecard by:
 - Compile the list (30 #s on average) on board – left around table
 - Turn to Company Scorecard Page (LTM 16)
 - Assign the Scorecard Creator to build / populate it; client chooses this person
 - Do first round of clean up - weekly activity based #s only (10-20 #s)
 - Set the Goal for each (Gut feel – 30 sec. rule; 20% might not have Goal)
 - Assign Accountability person for each Measurable
 - Add several columns to the right and input weekly meeting dates for 13 columns
- Let it evolve into something you'll love over the next 1 – 3 months

HOMEWORK – The Scorecard

- Use Excel to create; bring to weekly Level 10 meetings
- Who will compile the Scorecard and bring it to the weekly meeting and to VB1?
